Aluminium Awnings

The Patio awning as its name suggests uses a more robust under structure, making it an ideal compliment for any large exposed balcony or patio whilst still at home as a door or window covering. Available with arm or post support & with matching trim panels or closed in sides.

The Kool'd'Sun uses a unique vertical ribbed panel design not unlike that of our Patio awning. It is also available as a curved awning. It features an alternating combination of narrow & wide panels with all panels enamel baked for longevity. With matching trim panels at each end & almost unlimited colour combinations, the Kool'd'Sun can be tailored to suit your homes' styling, & designed for weather protection for windows, balconies or patios & suitable for installation in coastal areas.

The Sunlander features horizontally striped panels for its styling appeal. Ideal weather protection for windows, balconies or patios & for installation in coastal areas. It is an economical & a popular awning that can be a full side feature to any house.
